Lisan ul Quran — Lecture 35 and 36

Ta'keed in the Jumla Ismiyyah

1. The definition of Ta'keed

Definition: Any word or style adopted in speech to make a meaning firm and settled is called Ta'keed — emphasis. That is, stating something in a firm, settled manner, free of doubt and hesitation, so that its reality settles well in the heart of the one addressed.

In Arabic there are two basic ways of producing weight, force and emphasis in a statement: one in meaning and the other in wording.

Emphasis in meaning: When the speaker is Allah Himself, every sentence of His speech is in its own place entirely emphatic and effective, even if it is a plain Jumla Ismiyyah.

To produce emphasis in wording, however, Arabic grammar takes the help of particles. In a Jumla Ismiyyah two are used for this: the Lam ul Ibtida and إِنَّ.

2. The Lam ul Ibtida

Definition: To produce emphasis in a Jumla Ismiyyah, the letter lam with a fathah, لَ, is used before the Mubtada. When this lam comes upon the Mubtada it is called the Lam ul Ibtida or the Lam ut Ta'keed.

Aspect	The ruling
In I'raab	the Lam ul Ibtida brings about no change of I'raab in the noun. The Mubtada and the Khabar remain in their original state of raf'
In structure	its coming brings no change to the structure of the sentence; the Mubtada stays the Mubtada and the Khabar stays the Khabar
In writing	when the Lam ul Ibtida enters a noun that already carries al-, the Hamzat ul Wasl of al- falls away in both writing and reading

لَ + لَ = لِلْأَخِرَةِ

Examples from the Qur'an

وَلَاخِرَةُ خَيْرٌ لَّكَ مِنَ الْأُولَى

(Surah ad-Duha: 4)

Translation: And surely the Hereafter is better for you than the first life.

Here الْآخِرَةُ is a Ma'rifah noun and the Mubtada, upon which the Lam ul Ibtida has entered. Because the Hamzat ul Wasl fell away it is written لَاخِرَةُ. خَيْرٌ is the Khabar and the rest of the sentence consists of muta'alliqat.

وَلَاخِرَةُ أَكْبَرُ دَرَجَتٍ وَأَكْبَرُ تَفْضِيلًا

(Surah Bani Isra'il: 21)

Translation: And surely the Hereafter is greater in ranks and greater in excellence.

In this example الْآخِرَةُ is the Mubtada, and أَكْبَرُ دَرَجَتٍ وَأَكْبَرُ تَفْضِيلًا together form the Khabar.

3. The Nakirah Makhsusah

The general rule of Arabic grammar is that the Mubtada is Ma'rifah. But if a Sifah comes with a Nakirah noun, it becomes a Nakirah Makhsusah — a specified indefinite — and may then serve as the Mubtada.

وَلَأَمَةٌ مُّؤْمِنَةٌ خَيْرٌ مِّنْ مُّشْرِكَةٍ وَلَوْ أَعْجَبَتْكُمْ

(Surah al-Baqarah: 221)

Translation: And a believing bondwoman is certainly better than a polytheist woman, even though she may please you.

Here أَمَةٌ مُّؤْمِنَةٌ, the Mawsuf with its Sifah, together form the Mubtada, upon which the Lam ul Ibtida has come for emphasis. خَيْرٌ is its Khabar and مِّنْ مُّشْرِكَةٍ the Muta'alliq ul Khabar. The presence of the Sifah made the Nakirah noun fit to be the Mubtada.

وَلَعَبْدٌ مُّؤْمِنٌ خَيْرٌ مِّنْ مُّشْرِكٍ وَلَوْ أَعْجَبَكُمْ

(Surah al-Baqarah: 221)

Translation: And a believing bondman is certainly better than a polytheist man, even though he may please you.

In this sentence too عَبْدٌ مُّؤْمِنٌ is a Murakkab Tawsifi serving as the Mubtada, and the Lam ul Ibtida has produced the sense of "certainly" in it, while the state of raf' remained.

Further Qur'anic examples

The verse	Translation	Explanation
وَلَا جَزَاءُ الْآخِرَةِ أَكْبَرُ	and surely the reward of the Hereafter is greater	أَجْرُ is the Mubtada; the Lam ul Ibtida upon it produced emphasis

The verse	Translation	Explanation
وَلَذِكْرُ اللَّهِ أَكْبَرُ	and surely the remembrance of Allah is greater	the lam at the start of ذِكْرُ is the Lam ul Ibtida
وَلَدَارُ الْآخِرَةِ خَيْرٌ	and surely the home of the Hereafter is better	دَارُ الْآخِرَةِ is a Murakkab Idafi, and the lam came upon the Mudaf
لَمَسْجِدٍ أُسِّسَ عَلَى التَّقْوَى	surely a mosque founded upon piety	the lam entering مَسْجِدٍ is likewise the Lam ul Ibtida
لَأَنْتُمْ أَشَدُّ رَهْبَةً	surely you are more fearsome	لَأَنْتُمْ — the lam has entered a pronoun

- The Lam ul Ibtida is used less often in the Qur'an than إِنَّ.
- It enters particularly a Mubtada whose Khabar stands on the pattern of the Ism ut Tafdeel, as in أَكْبَرُ.
- It may, however, be used with an ordinary Khabar as well.

4. The particle of emphasis Inna

إِنَّ is a Harf among the categories of the Kalimah, and in the terminology of grammar it is also called a Harf Nasikh — an abrogating particle.

Why abrogating?: The word naskh means to abolish or bring to an end. When إِنَّ enters a Jumla Ismiyyah, it abolishes the ruling that the Mubtada be Marfoo' and makes it Mansoob.

إِنَّ and the lam produce the same kind of emphasis. In the Qur'an إِنَّ is used for emphasis a great deal.

The change in the parts of the sentence

After إِنَّ enters, the parts of the sentence are no longer called by their usual names.

Before Inna	After Inna
Mubtada (Marfoo')	Ism Inna (Mansoob)
Khabar (Marfoo')	Khabar Inna (stays Marfoo')

Its working: إِنَّ gives nasb to its noun, while the Khabar remains Marfoo' as before.

The sisters of Inna

In grammar إِنَّ does not stand alone; there are other particles that do exactly the same work. They are called إِنَّ وَأَخَوَاتُهَا — "Inna and its sisters".

Particle	Meaning	Purpose
إِنَّ	indeed	emphasis
أَنَّ	that	emphasis, but within a sentence
كَأَنَّ	as though	likeness
لَكِنَّ	but	correction of what preceded
لَيْتَ	if only	longing
لَعَلَّ	perhaps, so that	hope or expectation

All work alike: All these particles make their noun Mansoob and keep the Khabar Marfoo'. So wherever any one of them appears, the noun that follows it will be Mansoob.

5. Tables of the change in I'raab

5.1 Masculine

Number	Before Inna	After Inna
Wahid	رَيْدٌ صَالِحٌ	إِنَّ رَيْدًا صَالِحٌ
Wahid	الْمُسْلِمُ صَادِقٌ	إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمَ صَادِقٌ
Tathniyah	الْمُسْلِمَانِ صَادِقَانِ	إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمَيْنِ صَادِقَانِ
Jam' Salim	الْمُسْلِمُونَ صَادِقُونَ	إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمِينَ صَادِقُونَ

- In the singular, رَيْدٌ, which was the Mubtada, is now called the Ism Inna and becomes Mansoob, while صَالِحٌ is called the Khabar Inna and stays Marfoo'.
- The dual noun in the state of nasb changes from تَانِ to the sound of يَيْنِ.
- The Jam' Salim Mudhakkar in the state of nasb changes from يُونَ to يِينَ.

5.2 Feminine

Number	Before Inna	After Inna
Wahid	الْمُسْلِمَةُ صَادِقَةٌ	إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمَةَ صَادِقَةٌ
Tathniyah	الْمُسْلِمَتَانِ صَادِقَتَانِ	إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمَتَيْنِ صَادِقَتَانِ
Jam' Salim	الْمُسْلِمَاتُ صَادِقَاتُ	إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمَاتِ صَادِقَاتُ

The particular rule of the Jam' Salim Mu'annath: The Jam' Salim Mu'annath comes with a kasrah in both the states of nasb and jarr. Since إِنَّ stands at the head of the sentence, الْمُسْلِمَاتِ here is the Ism Inna and Mansoob, while the Khabar صَادِقَاتُ is Marfoo'.

6. The Lam ul Muzahlaqah — double emphasis

To produce still more force in speech, إِنَّ and the Lam ut Ta'keed may be used together; but the two cannot gather in one place at the head of the sentence.

The solution: Since إِنَّ always comes at the head of the sentence, the lam is shifted over to the Khabar. This shifted lam is called the Lam ul Muzahlaqah — the "slipped" lam.

إِنَّ رَيْدًا لِّصَالِحٍ

(indeed Zayd is certainly righteous)

This sentence carries a double force: one from إِنَّ and another from the lam.

Masculine examples

إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمَ لَصَادِقٌ

إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمِينَ لَصَادِقَانِ

إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمِينَ لَصَادِقُونَ

Qur'anic examples

The verse	Translation
إِنَّكَ لَمِنَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ	indeed you are certainly among the messengers
إِنَّ الْأَبْرَارَ لَفِي نَعِيمٍ	indeed the righteous will certainly be in bliss
إِنَّ الْإِنْسَانَ لَفِي خُسْرٍ	indeed man is certainly in loss
إِنَّ رَبِّي لَسَمِيعُ الدُّعَاءِ	indeed my Lord is certainly the Hearer of supplication
إِنَّ الْمُنَافِقِينَ لَكَاذِبُونَ	indeed the hypocrites are certainly liars
إِنَّ إِلَهَكُمْ لَوَاحِدٌ	indeed your God is certainly One
إِنَّ الشِّرْكَ لَظُلْمٌ عَظِيمٌ	indeed associating partners is certainly a great wrong

7. The four aspects of emphasis — Surah al-'Asr

One most powerful means of producing force in speech is the oath, which is reserved for the being of Allah alone. When an oath, إِنَّ and the Lam ul Muzahlaqah gather together, emphasis reaches its utmost.

وَالْعَصْرِ ﴿١﴾ إِنَّ الْإِنْسَانَ لَفِي خُسْرٍ ﴿٢﴾

(Surah al-'Asr: 1 to 2)

Translation: By time! Indeed man is certainly in loss.

In this one short passage all four aspects of emphasis are gathered together.

Aspect	Details
The Being of Allah	the speaker is the Creator of the universe Himself, whose speech is in itself wholly true and emphatic
The oath	an oath by time has been sworn through وَالْعَصْرِ , which increases the weight of the speech
The particle of emphasis	by using إِنَّ the certainty of man's loss has been made plain
The Lam ul Muzahlaqah	by entering لَ upon the Khabar خُسْرٍ , the emphasis was made firmer still

The secret of the Nakirah khusr: At the end of the verse the word خُسْرٍ has been brought as Nakirah. In Arabic rhetoric a Nakirah is not always used merely for something ordinary; it comes sometimes for contempt, sometimes for abundance, and sometimes to convey magnitude and severity.

The purpose of the Nakirah here is to state the dreadfulness, magnitude and severity of that loss — that man is surrounded not by any ordinary loss but by a very great and ruinous one, from which the way of escape is faith and righteous deeds.

An example with three aspects

وَاللَّهُ يَشْهَدُ إِنَّ الْمُنَافِقِينَ كَذِبُونَ

(Surah al-Munafiqun: 1)

Translation: And Allah bears witness that indeed the hypocrites are certainly liars.

- Allah's witness — the word يَشْهَدُ is used here in the sense of an oath, which brings the utmost weight into the speech.
- The use of إِنَّ — الْمُنَافِقِينَ is its noun, which being a Jam' Salim Mudhakkar has come in the state of nasb with the sound "een".
- The Lam ul Muzahlaqah — the lam of emphasis has entered the Khabar كَذِبُونَ, without changing its state of raf'.

8. The various forms of the Khabar of Inna

The Khabar of إِنَّ is not only a single noun; it may come in various forms.

8.1 A Murakkab Jarri as the Khabar

إِنَّ الْيَاسَ لَمِنَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ and إِنَّ لَوْطًا لَمِنَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ

(Surah as-Saffat)

Here لَمِنَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ — the Lam ut Ta'keed with a Murakkab Jarri — has been used as the Khabar.

A fine difference: لَوْطًا is plainly Mansoob for being a Munsarif noun, that is, it carries the Tanween of nasb. Whereas الْيَاسَ is in the state of nasb on account of إِنَّ despite being Ghayr Munsarif — but without Tanween, with a bare fathah.

8.2 A Murakkab Tawsifi as the Khabar

إِنَّ الشِّرْكَ لَظُلْمٌ عَظِيمٌ

(Surah Luqman: 13)

Translation: Indeed associating partners with Allah is certainly a great wrong.

Here ظُلْمٌ عَظِيمٌ is a Murakkab Tawsifi, where the Lam ut Ta'keed has entered the Mawsuf.

9. Inna entering a Mabni noun

Rule: When إِنَّ enters a Mabni noun — one that does not change its form — it does not appear Mansoob in wording, but by reason of its position it is called mahallan Mansoob.

9.1 An Ism ul Isharah

إِنَّ هَذَا لَهُوَ الْقَصَصُ الْحَقُّ

(Surah Al 'Imran: 62)

Translation: Indeed this is certainly the true narration.

Here هَذَا is not Mansoob in form, being Mabni, but it is mahallan Mansoob and is the noun of إِنَّ.

9.2 An Ism ul Mawsul

إِنَّ الَّذِي فَرَضَ عَلَيْكَ الْقُرْآنَ لَرَادُّكَ إِلَى مَعَادٍ

(Surah al-Qasas: 85)

Translation: Indeed He who has made the Qur'an binding upon you will surely return you to a place of return.

الَّذِي is an Ism ul Mawsul, and being Mabni it is not Mansoob in form but is mahallan Mansoob, and is the noun of إِنَّ.

The Asma' ul Mawsulah do not come alone; a clause generally comes with them called the Silat ul Mawsul, and it is usually a Jumla Fi'liyyah. So here فَرَضَ عَلَيْكَ الْقُرْآنَ is the whole Silat ul Mawsul, and لَرَأَدُكَ إِلَى مَعَادٍ is the Khabar.

10. A Khabar Muqaddam with Inna

Sometimes, for emphasis and breadth of meaning, the Khabar of إِنَّ is brought before its noun.

إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً and إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةٍ

In these verses فِي ذَلِكَ, a Murakkab Jarri, is the Khabar Muqaddam, while آيَةً and آيَةٍ, with the Lam ut Ta'keed, are the Ism Mu'akhkhar.

The Jam' Salim Mu'annath: آيَةٍ is a Jam' Salim Mu'annath, which is why it has come with a kasrah even in the state of nasb, and not with a fathah.

11. Inna with the constructions

11.1 The Murakkab Tawsifi

In a Murakkab Tawsifi both nouns agree in all four respects and share one and the same state of I'raab. So the effect of إِنَّ falls upon both the Mawsuf and the Sifah.

أَلَوْلَدُ الطَّوِيلِ صَالِحٌ ← إِنَّ أَلَوْلَدَ الطَّوِيلِ صَالِحٌ

إِنَّ الدَّارَ الْآخِرَةَ لَهِیَ الْحَيَوَانُ

(Surah al-'Ankabut: 64)

Translation: And indeed the home of the Hereafter is certainly the true life.

The whole Murakkab Tawsifi الدَّارَ الْآخِرَةَ is Mansoob for being the noun of إِنَّ.

11.2 The Murakkab Idafi

The state of I'raab of a Murakkab Idafi is settled by the Mudaf, since the Mudaf Ilayh is always in the state of jarr.

وَلَدٌ حَامِدٍ صَالِحٌ ← إِنَّ وَلَدَ حَامِدٍ صَالِحٌ

أَلَا إِنَّ نَصْرَ اللَّهِ قَرِيبٌ

(Surah al-Baqarah: 214)

Translation: Unquestionably, the help of Allah is near.

نَصْرَ اللَّهِ is a Murakkab Idafi and the noun of إِنَّ, which is why the Mudaf نَصْرَ is Mansoob, while the Mudaf Ilayh اللَّهُ remains Majroor.

11.3 The Murakkab Isharee

The state of I'raab of a Murakkab Isharee is settled by the Mushar Ilayh, since the singular and plural Asma' ul Isharah are Mabni.

هَذَا الْقَلَمُ جَدِيدٌ ← إِنَّ هَذَا الْقَلَمَ جَدِيدٌ

إِنَّ هَذَا الْقُرْآنَ يَهْدِي لِلَّتِي هِيَ أَقْوَمُ

(Surah Bani Isra'il: 9)

Translation: Indeed this Qur'an guides to that which is most upright.

هَذَا الْقُرْآنَ is a Murakkab Isharee that together forms the noun of إِنَّ. هَذَا is mahallan Mansoob and الْقُرْآنَ is Mansoob in wording.

12. Mansoob Dama'ir with Inna

Sometimes a pronoun is used in place of a noun in a Jumla Ismiyyah. Just as the noun of إِنَّ is Mansoob, so too a pronoun coming after إِنَّ will be used as Mansoob.

An important point: In Arabic the Majroor and Mansoob pronouns are exactly the same. They are told apart only by the place of use, not by their form.

Form	Wahid	Tathniyah	Jam'
Mudhakkar Gha'ib	إِنَّهُ	إِنَّهُمَا	إِنَّهُمْ
Mu'annath Gha'ib	إِنَّهَا	إِنَّهُمَا	إِنَّهِنَّ
Mudhakkar Hadir	إِنَّكَ	إِنَّكُمَا	إِنَّكُمْ
Mu'annath Hadir	إِنَّكِ	إِنَّكُمَا	إِنَّكُنَّ
Mutakallim	إِنِّي / إِنِّي	—	إِنَّا / إِنَّا

How to tell the state of a pronoun

In Arabic grammar a pronoun is in the state of jarr in only two cases, and in the state of nasb in only two.

State	When?	Examples
Majroor	immediately after a noun, that is, in the place of the Mudaf Ilayh	كِتَابُهُ ، رَبُّكَ ، دِينُنَا
Majroor	immediately after a Harf ul Jarr	فِيهِ ، عَلَيْكَ ، لَهُ
Mansoob	immediately after Inna or one of its sisters	إِنَّهُ ، إِنَّكَ ، إِنَّا
Mansoob	joined to a verb, that is, as the Maf'ool	نَصَرَهُ ، خَلَقَكُمْ

Innanee and Innee • Innana and Inna

In the Qur'an both إِنِّي and إِنِّي are used for the singular Mutakallim, and likewise both إِنَّا and إِنَّا for the plural.

- In إِنِّي the Nun ul Wiqayah has been used so that the original structure of the word is preserved. This is the same noon that was studied in Lecture 25.
- In إِنَّا three noons gather — two from إِنَّ and one from the pronoun نَا. It is a principle of Arabic that where three like letters gather, one is dropped for ease, which gives إِنَّا.

Qur'anic examples

إِنِّي أَنَا اللَّهُ رَبُّ الْعَالَمِينَ

(Surah al-Qasas: 30)

Translation: Indeed I am Allah, Lord of all the worlds.

إِنِّي أَنَا اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنَا فَاعْبُدْنِي

(Surah Ta-Ha: 14)

Translation: Indeed I am Allah; there is no god but Me, so worship Me.

قَالُوا إِنَّا لِلَّهِ وَأَنَّا إِلَيْهِ رَاجِعُونَ

(Surah al-Baqarah: 156)

Translation: They said: indeed we belong to Allah, and indeed to Him we shall return.

A full analysis

إِنَّهُ لِحُبِّ الْخَيْرِ لَشَدِيدٌ

(Surah al-'Adiyat: 8 — and indeed he is, in his love of wealth, certainly intense)

Element	Details
إِنَّ	the particle of emphasis
هُ	a Mansoob pronoun, and this is the noun of Inna
لِحُبِّ الْخَيْرِ	a Murakkab Jarri, within which حُبُّ الْخَيْرِ is a Murakkab Idafi
لَ	the Lam ut Ta'keed, that is, the Lam ul Muzahlaqah
شَدِيدٌ	the Khabar of Inna, which is Marfoo'

The first verse of Surah al-Munafiqun

إِذَا جَاءَكَ الْمُنَافِقُونَ قَالُوا نَشْهَدُ إِنَّكَ لَرَسُولُ اللَّهِ وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ إِنَّكَ لَرَسُولُهُ وَاللَّهُ يَشْهَدُ إِنَّ الْمُنَافِقِينَ لَكَاذِبُونَ

(Surah al-Munafiqun: 1)

Translation: When the hypocrites come to you they say: we bear witness that you are indeed the Messenger of Allah. And Allah knows that you are indeed His Messenger. And Allah bears witness that the hypocrites are certainly liars.

- إِنَّكَ لَرَسُولُ اللَّهِ — here the pronoun كَ, a Mansoob Muttasil pronoun, is the noun of إِنَّ, while رَسُولُ اللَّهِ, a Murakkab Idafi, is the Khabar, upon which the Lam ul Muzahlaqah has entered.
- إِنَّكَ لَرَسُولُهُ — here too كَ is the noun of إِنَّ, and رَسُولُهُ is the Khabar, in which the pronoun هُ is the Mudaf Ilayh and therefore Majroor.

- إِنَّ الْمُنْفِقِينَ لَكَاذِبُونَ — here the open noun الْمُنْفِقِينَ is the Mansoob noun of إِنَّ, and لَكَاذِبُونَ is the Marfoo' Khabar carrying the Lam ut Ta'keed.

An important point: In all these examples the coming of the Lam ut Ta'keed along with إِنَّ produces a double force, while Allah's bearing witness makes that emphasis absolute and final.

13. The Kalimah Hasr

The method: To produce the sense of Hasr, that is, of restriction, a pronoun in the state of raf' is placed between the Mubtada and the Khabar, agreeing with the Mubtada, and the Khabar is made Ma'rifah. This produces the sense of "alone" in the sentence, and the Khabar becomes particular to the Mubtada.

- The Khabar is generally Nakirah, but once the Kalimah Hasr comes, a Ma'rifah Khabar is brought.
- In translation the word "alone" or "only" is added.

13.1 A singular example

The sentence	Translation
اللَّهُ عَفُورٌ	Allah is forgiving
اللَّهُ هُوَ الْعَفُورُ	Allah alone is the Forgiving
إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَهُوَ الْعَفُورُ	indeed Allah alone is the Forgiving

- اللَّهُ — the Mubtada
- هُوَ — the Kalimah Hasr. The Mubtada is singular, so agreeing with it the Kalimah Hasr has come as singular too
- الْعَفُورُ — the Khabar, which here is Ma'rifah

Where did the lam go?: In the third form the noun of إِنَّ became Mansoob. And the Lam ut Ta'keed cannot enter the Khabar, because the Lam ut Ta'reef is already present upon it. So the Lam ut Ta'keed entered the Kalimah Hasr instead.

13.2 A plural example

The sentence	Translation
الْكَافِرُونَ ظَالِمُونَ	the disbelievers are wrongdoers
الْكَافِرُونَ هُمُ الظَّالِمُونَ	the disbelievers alone are the wrongdoers
إِنَّ الْكَافِرِينَ هُمُ الظَّالِمُونَ	indeed the disbelievers alone are the wrongdoers

The Mubtada is plural, so agreeing with it the Kalimah Hasr has come as plural — هُمْ.

13.3 With a Murakkab Tawsifi

The sentence	Translation
الدَّارُ الْآخِرَةُ حَيَوَانٌ	the home of the Hereafter is life
الدَّارُ الْآخِرَةُ هِيَ الْحَيَوَانُ	the home of the Hereafter alone is the true life
إِنَّ الدَّارَ الْآخِرَةَ لَهِیَ الْحَيَوَانُ	indeed the home of the Hereafter alone is the true life

Examples from the Qur'an

This style of emphasis is used a great deal in the Qur'an, where the particle إِنَّ is present, the Lam ut Ta'keed too, the Kalimah Hasr as well, and the Khabar is Ma'rifah.

أَصْحَابُ الْجَنَّةِ هُمُ الْفَائِزُونَ

(Surah al-Hashr: 20)

Translation: The companions of Paradise alone are the successful.

إِنَّ حِزْبَ الشَّيْطَانِ هُمُ الْخَسِرُونَ

(Surah al-Mujadilah: 19)

Translation: Indeed the party of Satan alone are the losers.

إِنَّ حِزْبَ اللَّهِ هُمُ الْمُفْلِحُونَ

(Surah al-Mujadilah: 22)

Translation: Indeed the party of Allah alone are the successful.

Summary

1. Any word or style adopted in speech to make a meaning firm and settled is called Ta'keed.
2. There are two basic ways of emphasis: in meaning and in wording.
3. When the speaker is Allah Himself, every sentence of His speech is in its own place emphatic.
4. In a Jumla Ismiyyah two particles are used for verbal emphasis: the Lam ul Ibtida and إِنَّ.
5. The Lam ul Ibtida comes before the Muftada and brings about no change of I'raab in the noun.
6. Its coming brings no change to the structure either; the Muftada stays the Muftada and the Khabar the Khabar.
7. When the Lam ul Ibtida enters a noun with al-, the Hamzat ul Wasl falls away in writing and reading: لِلْآخِرَةِ becomes لَاخِرَةُ.
8. The general rule is that the Muftada be Ma'rifah, but a Nakirah with a Sifah becomes a Nakirah Makhsusah and may serve as the Muftada.
9. This is the rule at work in وَلَا مَنَّةَ مُؤْمِنَةً and وَلَعَبْدٌ مُؤْمِنٌ.
10. The Lam ul Ibtida enters particularly a Muftada whose Khabar stands on the pattern of the Ism ut Tafdeel, as أَكْبَرُ does.
11. إِنَّ is a Harf among the categories of the Kalimah, also called a Harf Nasikh.
