Jam' Salim · Mudhakkar and Mu'annath

1. The Jam' and its two kinds

In Arabic a number greater than two is called a Jam'. The Jam' is of two kinds: Jam' Mukassar and Jam' Salim.

Kind	Definition and examples
Jam' Mukassar	The kind of plural in which the related singular does not remain present in its original sound form but breaks up. There is no rule for forming it; it has to be memorised. قَلَمَ ← أَقْلَام ، كُتِبَ ← كُتُب ، قُلُوبَ ← قُلُوب
Jam' Salim	A plural formed by a rule. In it the related singular remains present in its original sound form; the singular is kept at the front and something is added at its end.

The Jam' Salim divides further into two: the Jam' Salim Mudhakkar and the Jam' Salim Mu'annath. The two are formed differently.

2. Jam' Salim Mudhakkar

The rule for forming the Jam' Salim Mudhakkar is very simple. The singular masculine noun is written out twice and some alteration and addition made, producing two Jam' Salim forms from the one noun.

- Give the last letter of the singular masculine noun a dammah and add وَنَ, which produces the sound oona at the end.
- Give the last letter a kasrah and add يْنَ, which produces the sound eena at the end.

Singular	First form	Second form
مُؤْمِن	مُؤْمِنُ + وَنَ ← مُؤْمِنُونَ	مُؤْمِنُ + يْنَ ← مُؤْمِنِينَ
مُسْلِم	مُسْلِمُ + وَنَ ← مُسْلِمُونَ	مُسْلِمُ + يْنَ ← مُسْلِمِينَ
عَابِد	عَابِدُ + وَنَ ← عَابِدُونَ	عَابِدُ + يْنَ ← عَابِدِينَ

Why are there two forms?

Just as the difference between رَبِّ and رَبِّ in the Tathniyah rested on I'raab, these two forms are the I'raab of the Jam' Mudhakkar Salim. The ending رَبِّ — a silent waw preceded by a dammah with a noon carrying a fathah — comes in the state of raf'; and رَبِّ — a silent yaa' preceded by a kasrah with a noon carrying a fathah — comes in nasb and jarr. This too is I'raab bil Harf, that is, an I'raab coming through a letter rather than a harakah.

From which nouns is the Jam' Salim Mudhakkar formed?

It is formed only from the 'alam and the sifah of a masculine 'aqil being. In Arabic grammar all creation is divided into 'aqil and ghayr 'aqil. The 'aqil comprises human beings, angels and jinn; all other creatures fall under ghayr 'aqil.

Singular and its type	Halat ur Raf'	Halat un Nasb wal Jarr
رَبِّ (Ism 'Alam)	رَبِّ	رَبِّ
صَالِح (Sifah)	صَالِحُونَ	صَالِحِينَ
جَمِيل (Sifah Mushabbahah)	جَمِيلُونَ	جَمِيلِينَ
أَكْبَر (Ism ut Tafdeel)	أَكْبَرُونَ	أَكْبَرِينَ
رَفَاء (Ism ul Mubalaghah, ending in an Alif Mamdudah)	رَفَاءُونَ	رَفَاءِينَ

Two conditions

Two conditions attach to forming the plural of the 'alam and sifah of a masculine 'aqil:

- The Ism 'Alam must not end in a round ة. أَسَامَة, طَلْحَة and حُدَيْقَة are masculine, 'aqil and 'alam, yet they end in a round ة, so no Jam' Mudhakkar Salim is formed from them.
- The noun must not be from the Alwan or 'Uyub. This is a branch of the sifah that covers colours and defects, and no Jam' Mudhakkar Salim is formed from these.

The real basis of the second condition: The condition about the sifah is more easily grasped in this form: if the noun is the sifah of a masculine 'aqil, it is required that its feminine takes a round ة. This is why أَكْمَر cannot give أَكْمَرُونَ, nor سَكْرَان give سَكْرَانُونَ, nor جَرِيح give جَرِيحُونَ — none of the three takes a round ة in the feminine. The feminine of a colour comes on the pattern فَعْلَاءَ, which is precisely why the Alwan and 'Uyub are excluded.

The exception of the Ism ut Tafdeel: The Ism ut Tafdeel is excepted from this detail. Although its feminine likewise takes no round ة (since its feminine comes on the pattern فُعْلَى), its Jam' Mudhakkar Salim can still be formed, as أَكْرَمُ gives أَكْرَمُونَ and أَكْبَرُ gives أَكْبَرُونَ.

Four words from which no Jam' Mudhakkar Salim is formed

Word	Reason
كِتَاب	It is not 'aqil
رَجُل	It is neither an Ism 'Alam nor a sifah
أَسَامَة	It is a masculine 'aqil 'alam, but it ends in a round ة
أَخْضَر	It is a sifah, but the name of a colour, that is, from the Alwan

All four are masculine, yet from none of them is a Jam' Mudhakkar Salim formed. Likewise هِنْدٌ does not give هِنْدُونَ and قَلَمٌ does not give قَلَمُونَ — the first is not masculine and the second is not 'aqil.

3. An important note: exceptional words used by native speakers

Every rule has some exception. Although the Jam' Salim Mudhakkar is formed only from the 'alam or sifah of a masculine 'aqil, native speakers do use the Jam' Salim Mudhakkar of certain nouns that are neither 'alam, nor 'aqil, nor among the adjectives. Some things are known only from the usage of native speakers.

Singular	Halat ur Raf'	Nasb and Jarr	Which condition fails
عَالَمٌ (world)	عَالَمُونَ	عَالَمِينَ	not 'aqil, not 'alam, not a sifah
أَرْضٌ (earth)	أَرْضُونَ	أَرْضِينَ	not masculine, not 'aqil, not 'alam, not a sifah
أَهْلٌ (household)	أَهْلُونَ	أَهْلِينَ	not an 'alam, not a sifah
ابْنٌ (son)	بَنُونَ	بَنِينَ	not an 'alam, not a sifah

Singular	Halat ur Raf'	Nasb and Jarr	Which condition fails
سَنَةٌ (year)	سِنُونٌ	سِنِينَ	not masculine, not 'aqil, not 'alam, not a sifah

- In سِنِينَ the Arabs drop the hamzah, place a fathah on the baa', and use its Jam' Salim Mudhakkar.
- In سَنَةٌ the seen carries a fathah, yet in forming the plural the Arabs pronounce it with a kasrah.

The technical name: In grammatical terminology plurals of this sort are called shadh, that is, khilaf ul qiyas — contrary to analogy. The plural of أَرْضٌ as أَرْضُونَ and of سَنَةٌ as سِنُونٌ belong to this class. They are established not on the basis of a rule but on sama', the usage of native speakers.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ

(Surah al-Fatihah: 2) Jam' Salim: الْعَالَمِينَ

4. Qur'anic examples of the Jam' Salim Mudhakkar

The Jam' Salim of a singular masculine Ism 'Alam is not much used, whereas the Jam' Salim of adjectives is used in abundance. All five words below occur in the Qur'an in both forms.

Singular	Halat ur Raf'	Halat un Nasb wal Jarr
مُسْلِمٌ	مُسْلِمُونَ	مُسْلِمِينَ
مُؤْمِنٌ	مُؤْمِنُونَ	مُؤْمِنِينَ
كَافِرٌ	كَافِرُونَ	كَافِرِينَ
مُنَافِقٌ	مُنَافِقُونَ	مُنَافِقِينَ
عَابِدٌ	عَابِدُونَ	عَابِدِينَ

The word مُسْلِمُونَ occurs fifteen times in the Qur'an.

وَوَصَّى بِهَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بَنِيهِ وَيَعْقُوبُ ۖ يٰبَنِيَّ إِنَّ اللَّهَ اصْطَفَىٰ لَكُمُ الدِّينَ فَلَا تَمُوتُنَّ إِلَّا وَأَنتُمْ مُسْلِمُونَ

(Surah al-Baqarah: 132) Jam' Salim: بَنِيهِ ، مُسْلِمُونَ

Translation: And Ibrahim enjoined this upon his sons, and so did Ya'qub: O my sons, Allah has chosen this religion for you, so do not die except as Muslims.

لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ ۚ وَبِذَلِكَ أُمِرْتُ وَأَنَا أَوَّلُ الْمُسْلِمِينَ

(Surah al-An'am: 163) Jam' Salim: الْمُسْلِمِينَ

Translation: He has no partner. With this I have been commanded, and I am the first of those who submit.

قُلْ يَا أَيُّهَا الْكَافِرُونَ

(Surah al-Kafirun: 1) Jam' Salim: الْكَافِرُونَ

Translation: Say: O disbelievers!

إِذَا جَاءَكَ الْمُنَافِقُونَ قَالُوا نَشْهَدُ إِنَّكَ لَرَسُولُ اللَّهِ وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ إِنَّكَ لَرَسُولُهُ وَاللَّهُ يَشْهَدُ إِنَّ الْمُنَافِقِينَ لَكَاذِبُونَ

(Surah al-Munafiqun: 1) Jam' Salim: الْمُنَافِقِينَ ، الْمُنَافِقُونَ

Translation: When the hypocrites come to you they say: we bear witness that you are indeed the Messenger of Allah. And Allah knows that you are indeed His Messenger, and Allah bears witness that the hypocrites are surely liars.

Worth noting: This single verse contains both forms of the Jam' Salim Mudhakkar: الْمُنَافِقُونَ in the state of raf' and الْمُنَافِقِينَ in nashb, because it comes after إِنَّ.

5. Jam' Salim Mu'annath

The second kind of Jam' Salim is the Jam' Salim Mu'annath. It is formed from the following nouns:

- A feminine 'alam' ending in a round ة
- A feminine 'alam' not ending in a round ة
- Feminine adjectives
- Feminine nouns that are not adjectives

The method

First case — a round ة is present: For feminine nouns ending in a round ة, the round ة is removed and ات is put in its place, producing the sound aat at the end of the noun.

Second case — no round ة: If there is no round ة, a zabar is placed on the last letter and an alif with a long taa' is added.

Third case — a noun ending in an Alif Maqsurah: The small alif, that is the Alif Maqsurah, is removed; then a zabar is placed on the yaa' that remains and an alif with a long taa' is added.

Singular	Working	Jam' Salim Mu'annath
فَاطِمَة	فَاطِمَ + ات	فَاطِمَات
طَالِيَة	طَالِبَ + ات	طَالِيَات
طَلْحَة	طَلَحَ + ات	طَلَحَات
صَالِحَة	صَالِحَ + ات	صَالِحَات
شَجَرَة	شَجَرَ + ات	شَجَرَات
جَنَّة	جَنَّ + ات	جَنَّات
خَالِدَة	خَالِدَ + ات	خَالِدَات
مَرْيَمَ	مَرْيَمَ + ات	مَرْيَمَات
كُفْرَى	كُفْرَى + ات	كُفْرِيَات

In forming the Jam' Salim Mu'annath only one plural is made rather than two, giving the sound aat at the end. In respect of I'raab, however, a difference does appear: in the state of raf' the taa' carries a dammah (تَات), and in nasb and jarr a kasrah (تَات). In other words, the Jam' Mu'annath Salim takes a kasrah rather than a fathah even in the state of nasb.

The aat sound — Jam' Mu'annath Salim or Jam' Mukassar?

Countless words end in the aat sound, such as أَخَوَات ، بَنَات ، السَّمَوَات ، طَالِيَات — all of these are Jam' Salim Mu'annath. But the same sound also occurs in the Jam' Mukassar: the plural of صَوْت is أَصَوَات.

The test: Remove the aat from أَصَوَات and what is left is أَصَوُ, which is no singular noun at all. Remove it from كُفْرِيَات and كُفْرَى remains, which is a complete singular noun. This is the touchstone by which the Jam' Salim is told apart from the Jam' Mukassar.

عَسَىٰ رَبُّهُ إِنْ طَلَّقَكُنَّ أَنْ يُبَدِّلَهُ أَزْوَاجًا خَيْرًا مِّنْكُمْ مَّسْلُمَاتٍ مُّؤْمِنَاتٍ فَاِتِّبَتْ غِبْدَتٍ سَائِحَاتٍ ثَيِّبَاتٍ وَأَبْكَارًا

(Surah at-Tahrim: 5)

Translation: Perhaps his Lord, if he divorced you, would give him in exchange wives better than you — submitting, believing, devoutly obedient, repentant, worshipping, given to fasting, previously married and virgins.

In this verse seven words in succession are Jam' Salim Mu'annath, all ending in the sound بَاتٍ, that is, all in the state of nasb.

وَرَفَعَ بَعْضَهُمْ دَرَجَاتٍ ۚ وَآتَيْنَا عِيسَى ابْنَ مَرْيَمَ الْبَيِّنَاتِ وَأَيَّدْنَاهُ بِرُوحِ الْقُدُسِ

(Surah al-Baqarah: 253 (part))

Translation: And He raised some of them in degrees. And We gave 'Isa son of Maryam clear proofs and supported him with the Holy Spirit.

- دَرَجَاتٍ — Jam' Salim, Mu'annath, Mansoob or Majroor, Nakirah
- الْبَيِّنَاتِ — Jam' Salim, Mu'annath, Mansoob or Majroor, Ma'rifah
- الْبَيِّنَاتِ — Jam' Salim, Mu'annath, Marfoo', Ma'rifah (in the following part of the same verse)

6. Exceptions in the Jam' Mu'annath Salim

6.1 Nouns with a round ة whose plural the Arabs do not form with aat

Singular	By the rule	What the Arabs actually use
إِمْرَأَةٌ (woman)	إِمْرَأَاتٍ	نِسَاءً
أُمَّةٌ (nation)	أُمَّاتٍ	أُمَمٌ
أَمَةٌ (bondwoman)	أَمَّاتٍ	إِمَاءً
شَفَّةٌ (lip)	شَفَّاتٍ	شِفَاهَ
مِلَّةٌ (creed)	مِلَّاتٍ	مِلَلٌ

The technical name: In the plural of إِمْرَأَةٌ as نِسَاءً, and likewise of دُو as أُوْلُو, the letters of the plural are entirely different from those of the singular. Such a plural is called Jam' min ghayr lafzi wahidihi — a plural not formed from the word of its own singular.

6.2 Words whose Jam' Salim Mu'annath should not be formed, yet the Arabs form it

- بِنْتُ — in the singular the baa' carries a kasrah, but in forming the plural the Arabs place a fathah on the baa' and say بَنَاتٍ.

- سَمَوَات gives سَمَاء
- أُمَّهَات gives أُمّ
- أَخَوَات gives أُخْت

A point: The plural of مَيِّت as أَمْوَات also carries the aat sound at the end, but apply the touchstone given above: remove the aat and أَمْو remains, which is no singular noun. So this is not a Jam' Salim Mu'annath but a Jam' Mukassar on the pattern أَفْعَال, exactly like أَصْوَات.

7. Ism Manqus and Ism Maqsur

Two kinds of noun undergo a change in their final letter when the Tathniyah and the Jam' are formed, so their rules need to be understood separately.

7.1 Ism Manqus

Definition: An Ism Manqus is an Ism Mu'rab whose last letter is an original yaa' and whose preceding letter carries a kasrah, as in الْقَاضِي (the judge), الْدَّاعِي (the caller) and الْسَّارِي (one who travels by night).

In Arabic grammar the Ism Manqus is generally built on the pattern of the Ism ul Fa'il from a thulathi mujarrad or from some bab, when a weak letter yaa' comes at its end. This final yaa' is called the yaa' asliyyah or yaa' ul kalimah, because it is part of the word's own Huroof Asliyyah.

The states of the singular

State	What happens to the yaa'	Example
Raf' and Jarr	The yaa' is dropped from the end and a Tanween of two kasrahs is put in its place	قَاضٍ ، دَاعٍ
Nasb	The yaa' stays in place and carries a fathah with Tanween	قَاضِيًا ، دَاعِيًا

Tathniyah and Jam'

- In forming the Tathniyah the dropped yaa' is restored. In the state of raf' it gives قَاضِيَانِ and in nasb and jarr قَاضِيَيْنِ.
- In forming the Jam' Mudhakkar Salim the final yaa' is dropped. In raf' a dammah is given to the preceding letter, giving قَاضُونَ (originally قَاضِيُونَ); and in nasb and jarr a kasrah is given to the preceding letter, giving قَاضِيْنَ (originally قَاضِيَيْنِ).

- In forming the Jam' Mu'annath Salim the dropped yaa' is restored and ات is added by the ordinary rule, giving قَاضِيَات in raf' and قَاضِيَات in nasb and jarr.

Form	Halat ur Raf'	Halat un Nasb wal Jarr
Wahid	قَاضٍ	قَاضِيًا (nasb) ، قَاضٍ (jarr)
Tathniyah	قَاضِيَانِ	قَاضِيَيْنِ
Jam' Mudhakkar Salim	قَاضُونَ	قَاضِينَ
Jam' Mu'annath Salim	قَاضِيَاتُ	قَاضِيَاتٍ

7.2 Ism Maqsur

An Ism Maqsur is a noun whose last letter is an alif. A masculine Ism Maqsur is either an ism dhat or a masculine sifah, whereas a feminine Ism Maqsur generally comes on an adjectival pattern such as فُعْلَى, so as to make the distinction of gender plain. Since its final letter is an alif, the rules for changing that alif in the Tathniyah and the Jam' are separate.

Tathniyah — it depends on the position of the alif

First case — the alif is the third letter: The alif is returned to its origin, that is, to a waw or a yaa'. The alif of عَصَا is changed from a waw, so it gives عَصَوَانِ and عَصَوَيْنِ. The alif of فَتَى is changed from a yaa', so it gives فَتَيَانِ and فَتَيَيْنِ.

Second case — the alif is the fourth letter or beyond: Whatever its origin, the alif is changed absolutely into a yaa'. So مُصْطَفَى gives مُصْطَفَيَانِ and مُصْطَفَيَيْنِ, and كُبْرَى gives كُبْرَيَانِ and كُبْرَيَيْنِ.

Jam' Mudhakkar Salim

In forming the Jam' Mudhakkar Salim of an Ism Maqsur, the Alif Maqsurah is dropped altogether, and the preceding letter always keeps its fathah, so that it remains known that an alif has been elided. Thus مُصْطَفَى gives مُصْطَفُونَ in the state of raf' and مُصْطَفَيْنَ in nasb and jarr. In practice these forms are very seldom used.

The decisive difference between Manqus and Maqsur: In the Jam' Mudhakkar Salim the vowel on the letter preceding an Ism Manqus changes — a dammah in raf' and a kasrah in nasb and jarr (قَاضُونَ and قَاضِينَ). By contrast the vowel preceding an Ism Maqsur does not change; a fathah remains in both states (مُصْطَفُونَ and مُصْطَفَيْنَ). This is the real point of distinction between the two.

Jam' Mu'annath Salim

If an Ism Maqsur is feminine, or its Jam' Mu'annath Salim is being formed, the alif follows the same rulings as in the Tathniyah — if it is the third letter it returns to its origin, and if it is the fourth or beyond it becomes a yaa'. After that ات is added.

Singular	Position of the alif and the change	Jam' Mu'annath Salim
عَصَا	third letter — it returns to a waw	عَصَوَاتُ
كُتُبِي	fourth letter — it becomes a yaa'	كُتُبَيَاتُ

The two compared

Aspect	Ism Manqus	Ism Maqsur
Final letter	An original yaa' with a kasrah before it	An alif (Alif Maqsurah)
Specimen	قَاضٍ ، دَاعٍ	مُصْطَفَى ، كُتُبِي ، عَصَا
Tathniyah	The dropped yaa' returns: قَاضِيَانِ	The alif returns to its origin or becomes a yaa': عَصَوَانِ , مُصْطَفَيَانِ
Jam' Mudhakkar Salim	The yaa' drops and the preceding vowel changes: قَاضُونَ / قَاضِيْنَ	The alif drops and the fathah stays: مُصْطَفُونَ / مُصْطَفِيْنَ
Jam' Mu'annath Salim	The yaa' returns and aat is added: قَاضِيَاتُ	The alif changes and aat is added: عَصَوَاتُ , كُتُبَيَاتُ

8. The difference between a Jam' Ism and a Jam' Fi'l

Just as a Tathniyah Ism is told apart from a Tathniyah Fi'l, so a Jam' Ism is told apart from a Jam' Fi'l. Some verbs begin with a yaa' or a taa' and end with the oona sound.

An easy test: If a word begins with the letter yaa' or taa', then it is not a Jam' Salim but a Fi'l.

Jam' Ism	Jam' Fi'l
كَادِبُونَ	يَكْذِبُونَ ، تَكْذِبُونَ
مُؤْمِنُونَ	يُؤْمِنُونَ ، تُؤْمِنُونَ

9. Two comprehensive verses of the Qur'an

Jam' Salim Mudhakkar

التَّائِبُونَ الْعِدُونَ الْحَامِدُونَ السَّائِحُونَ الرَّاكِعُونَ السَّاجِدُونَ الْآمِرُونَ بِالْمَعْرُوفِ وَالنَّاهُونَ عَنِ الْمُنْكَرِ وَالْحَافِظُونَ لِحُدُودِ اللَّهِ وَبَشِّرِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ

(Surah at-Tawbah: 112) Jam' Salim: in nasb الْمُؤْمِنِينَ , 'nine words in raf

Translation: Those who repent, who worship, who praise, who fast, who bow, who prostrate, who enjoin good and forbid evil, and who guard the limits set by Allah — and give glad tidings to the believers.

Jam' Salim Mudhakkar and Jam' Salim Mu'annath together

إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَالْمُسْلِمَاتِ وَالْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ وَالْقَنِينَ وَالْقَنِينَ وَالصَّادِقِينَ وَالصَّادِقَاتِ وَالصَّابِرِينَ وَالصَّابِرَاتِ وَالْخَاشِعِينَ وَالْخَاشِعَاتِ وَالْمُتَصَدِّقِينَ

وَالْمُتَصَدِّقَاتِ وَالصَّائِمِينَ وَالصَّائِمَاتِ وَالْحَافِظِينَ فُرُوجَهُمْ وَالْحَافِظَاتِ وَالذَّاكِرِينَ اللَّهَ كَثِيرًا وَالذَّاكِرَاتِ ۚ أَعَدَّ اللَّهُ لَهُمْ مَغْفِرَةً وَأَجْرًا عَظِيمًا

(Surah al-Ahzab: 35) Jam' Salim: ten pairs, each with both Mudhakkar and Mu'annath

Translation: Indeed the Muslim men and Muslim women, the believing men and believing women, the obedient men and obedient women, the truthful men and truthful women, the patient men and patient women, the humble men and humble women, the charitable men and charitable women, the fasting men and fasting women, the men who guard their chastity and the women who do so, and the men who remember Allah much and the women who do so — for all of them Allah has prepared forgiveness and a great reward.

This verse is a summary of the whole lesson on the Jam' Salim. It contains ten pairs, and in every pair the Jam' Salim Mudhakkar comes first (in the state of nasb, since it is the ism of إِنَّ), followed by the Jam' Salim Mu'annath of the same word.

Summary

1. In the Jam' Mukassar the singular breaks up and there is no rule for it, whereas the Jam' Salim is formed by a rule and the singular stays sound within it.
2. The Jam' Salim is of two kinds: Jam' Salim Mudhakkar and Jam' Salim Mu'annath, each formed differently.
3. Jam' Salim Mudhakkar: give the last letter a dammah and add وَنْ, or give it a kasrah and add يَنْ.
4. These two forms are I'raab: نُونْ in the state of raf' and يَنْ in nasb and jarr.
5. The Jam' Salim Mudhakkar is formed only from the 'alam and the sifah of a masculine 'aqil. The 'aqil comprises human beings, angels and jinn.
6. First condition: the Ism 'Alam must not end in a round ة, which is why طَلْحَة, أُسَامَة and حُدَيْفَة yield no Jam' Mudhakkar Salim.
7. Second condition: the noun must not be from the Alwan or 'Uyub, that is, the feminine of the sifah must take a round ة. Hence سَكْرَان, أَحْمَر, and جَرِيح yield none.
8. The Ism ut Tafdeel is excepted from this condition, which is why أَكْبَر gives أَكْبَرُونَ and أَكْرَم gives أَكْرَمُونَ.
9. أُسَامَة, رَجُل, and كِتَاب are all masculine, yet none of them has a Jam' Mudhakkar Salim.
10. سَنَة and عَالَم, أَرْض, أَهْل, and إِن do not meet the conditions, yet native speakers use their Jam' Salim Mudhakkar. Such plurals are called shadh or khilaf ul qiyas.
11. In forming the plural of an Ism Maqsur the Alif Maqsurah is dropped and the fathah on the preceding letter is kept, as مُصْطَفَى gives مُصْطَفَوْنَ.
12. Jam' Salim Mu'annath: if a round ة is present it is removed and ات added; if not, a zabar is placed on the last letter and an alif with a long taa' added.
13. In a noun ending in an Alif Maqsurah the small alif is removed and a zabar placed on the remaining yaa', as كُبْرَى gives كُبْرِيَات.
14. The Jam' Mu'annath Salim takes تَتْ in raf' and تَات in nasb and jarr, so the kasrah remains even in nasb.
15. For any word ending in the aat sound, remove the aat: if a complete singular remains it is a Jam' Salim, otherwise a Jam' Mukassar.
16. امْرَأَة, أُمَة, شَفَة and مَلَة end in a round ة yet are used with a Jam' Mukassar.
17. The plural of امْرَأَة as نِسَاء and of دُو as دُوْ is called Jam' min ghayr lafzi wahidihi.
18. أَخَوَات gives أَخْت, أُمَّهَات gives أُم, سَمَوَات gives سَمَاء, بَنَات gives بِنْت — all established by native usage.
19. An Ism Manqus ends in an original yaa' with a kasrah before it, as in الدَّاعِي and الْقَاضِي.
20. In the singular of an Ism Manqus the yaa' drops in raf' and jarr and a Tanween appears (قَاضِي), while in nasb the yaa' stays (قَاضِيًا).
21. The Tathniyah of an Ism Manqus is قَاضِيَان and قَاضِيَيْن, its Jam' Mudhakkar Salim قَاضُونَ and قَاضِيْنَ, and its Jam' Mu'annath Salim قَاضِيَات and قَاضِيَات.
22. An Ism Maqsur ends in an alif. In the Tathniyah, an alif in third position returns to its origin (waw or yaa'), and one in fourth position or beyond becomes a yaa' absolutely.

23. In the Jam' Mudhakkar Salim of an Ism Maqsur the alif drops but the fathah on the preceding letter always remains: مُصْطَفَيْنَ and مُصْطَفَوْنَ.
24. The decisive difference is that in the Jam' Mudhakkar Salim the vowel before an Ism Manqus changes, while the vowel before an Ism Maqsur does not.
25. If a word begins with a yaa' or a taa' and ends with the oona sound, it is a Jam' Fi'l and not a Jam' Ism.
